

TRUANT OFFICER NAMED BY BOARD

New Compulsory Education Law Will Now Be Enforced in El Paso.

Joe Grant, formerly in the city health department, went to work Thursday morning in the Bailey school building as El Paso's first truant officer under the new compulsory education law, which took effect Sept. 1. He was elected Wednesday afternoon by the school board, meeting at the Bailey school, at a salary of $75 a month.

School authorities predicted plenty of work for him among Mexican families who put their children to work as early as possible. Fourteen years is stipulated in the new school law as the working age, although there are many exemptions noted below that age, along with penalties for first, second and third offenders among both parents of truant children and the children themselves who fail to qualify under the exemptions.

Mrs. Breed Resigns.
The resignation of Mrs. Ida Breed, one of the oldest teachers in El Paso in point of service, was accepted by the board at the meeting Wednesday. Mrs. Breed's resignation ends 18 years of teaching in the departmental grades, usually in arithmetic classes. She began teaching in the Bailey building when it was the old Mesa school, but this year has been in the Bailey school.

Criticism Hearing System.
The hearing plant in the Alta Vista and the new high school buildings was sharply criticized and is to be examined by the external committee. It is being installed by the Elliott Engineering company on plans drawn by a Boston architect.

Thursday and Friday of next week were set aside as the Thanksgiving vacation. The Christmas vacation was named to begin December 22 and to end January 2.

Ninety dollars and fifty-two cents, the receipts of the Rafael Diaz concert two weeks ago, was turned into the pipe organ fund for the new high school.

A number of El Paso teachers will attend the superintendents' convention late next week at Fort Worth.

$7412.15 Bills Allowed.
The board referred the El Paso Bitulic company's bill of $7412.15 for repairs at the Apex Douglas and new high schools, to its attorney. A Hort Furniture company bill of $2596.40 for opera chairs at the auditorium of the new high school was discounted $10 and allowed. Last month's bill, amounting to $7412.15, was allowed. Permission to use the stadium was denied a traveling auto polo exhibition.

THIS STOPS HAIR FROM FALLING OUT

Ever try to count the dead fallen hairs in your comb and brush? They are nature's advance warning of future baldness and proof that the dangerous little dandruff germ is busy on your scalp.

Dr. Sangerbund, the famous Paris specialist, first discovered that dandruff and falling hair are caused by a microbe. Then came the discovery of the value of the real Parisian Sage (liquid form) in destroying the dandruff germ and promptly preventing the further loss of hair. The effect of only three days' use of Parisian Sage is simply marvelous, and the American people have now awakened to the fact that dandruff is just as unnecessary as it is unhealthy, and that they can be quickly rid of it and save their hair by using a few ounces of Parisian Sage. Parisian Sage is sold for not more than 25 cents a large bottle at drug and toilet counters everywhere. It is an ideal, daintily perfumed liquid, free from grease and stickiness, and will surely cause hair to grow soft, lustrous and really seem twice as abundant. Kelly & Pollard always have a large supply, and guarantee it to you.—Adv.

MACHINERY VERY HARD TO SECURE

This Is the Only Thing Standing in Way of Las Cruces Factory.

"Purchase of material and machinery is the only thing that now stands in the way of the erection of our sugar factory at Las Cruces," said S. W. Sinshelmer, manager of the Holly Sugar company. Mr. Sinshelmer, after visiting the site at Las Cruces and being assured by the town officials that in the reincorporation of the city, his plant would be omitted from the city limits, came down to El Paso yesterday, accompanied by W. B. Mandeville, president of the Union Bank and Trust company, of Las Cruces. Mr. Sinshelmer conferred here with W. G. Roe, who has interested himself largely in pushing the beet sugar industry for the El Paso valley.

"Although machinery is now 60 per cent higher than it was before the war," continued Mr. Sinshelmer, discussing the prospects of the Las Cruces factory, "our company has set aside the money to buy at the present prices and we have taken every step possible to secure machinery and material for our Las Cruces plant, but it is almost impossible to get structural steel and machinery at present."

"It is not a question of price; it is a matter of supply and demand. So many of the American factories are making war munitions, in which there is a much greater profit than in the machinery and structural steel, that they are unable to supply the demand for legitimate enterprises in this country. It is almost impossible, for instance, to secure brass at any price. We are not haggling over the price, although a factory erected now would cost many thousands of dollars more than any factory we have ever built. It is just a question of whether money can buy the machinery and the steel we need."

Mr. Sinshelmer left for California and the west today. He will probably stop at Phoenix, where his company last year took over the Glendale sugar factory.

Mr. Mandeville, who represents Mr. Sinshelmer and the company in their dealings in the Mesilla valley, will take over the site for the company as soon as Las Cruces is reincorporated with the plant site omitted from the city limits. meantime, the plans for the factory have been drawn and the orders for machinery and steel have been placed.

Mr. Mandeville was asked if it were impossible to erect the factory in time for the 1917 crop of beets, would the company take over the last crop anyhow, and he replied: "The factory will be built. But if it should not be built the first year, the company would buy the beets at the same price it has contracted for them and would absorb the freight on them to its nearest factory in Colorado. The fact that the company has ordered the expenditure of $16,000 for a site at Las Cruces already has already paid for an option on the land shows its good faith."

GAIN OF 5000 SHOWN IN NEW MEX. SCHOOL CENSUS

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 22.—New Mexico's school population exceeds 116,000 as against 110,969 in 1915. Already the school census of the state shows a scholastic population of 115,962 with four counties yet to report. The largest school apportionment made in the past five years will be made December 1, when the sum of $175,000 will be apportioned among the state schools. The last apportionment, made Sept. 8 was $28,555.82. That apportionment was 82 cents per pupil. The December apportionment will be nearly $1.56 per pupil.
